Kentucky Japan Festival

OVERVIEW

THE JAPAN FESTIVAL is Kentucky's largest Japanese Festival, with the goal of bringing traditional and modern Japanese culture to Kentucky, and furthering the Japan America Society of Kentucky's mission of being the bridge between Japan and Kentucky.

In it's 10th year, the Japan Festival has grown from a fairly small endeavor to having over 10,000 attendees. This year's event will be located in downtown Lexington, at the Robert F Stephens Courthouse Plaza, spanning the entire day from 11:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Visitors to the event will be able to engage in Japanese traditional culture through trying on Japanese Yukata (traditional summer wear), Origami (paper folding), Shuji (calligraphy), as well as modern Japanese culture – including anime, Cosplay, and Japanese music. The festival will engage children and adults with our “Lecture Series” on Japanese culture, food, and language. After hearing all about Japan, festival goers can enjoy great Japanese food and drink and peruse the Japanese Marketplace, where they will find Japanese books, comics, arts, movies, and traditional wear to buy.

The main stage will include Martial Arts demonstrations, Traditional Music and Dance, and an Anime Cosplay contest. There will also be a national recognized Taiko (Japanese traditional drumming) group performing 3 times throughout the day. This group will also give mini-lessons to explain this world famous Japanese music.

The Japan Festival is an interactive event. Festival attendees will not only get to see and experience traditional and modern Japanese culture, but they will have the opportunity to engage with the artists, try on clothes, make crafts, and enjoy the festival activities first-hand. Through this festival, Japan comes to life right here in Kentucky.
